

PC Rafe's Back In Business!

When PORT CHARLES' Stephen revealed himself during last week's concert, the town's residents could hardly believe their eyes. The elusive singer looks just like Caleb, the vampire who wreaked havoc in their lives just one year ago! While everyone else is reacting with fear and trepidation, Rafe is preparing to do battle.

"When he was an angel and a slayer at the same time, there was a sort of Zen sense because he couldn't do anything anyway," Brian Gaskill (Rafe) recalls. "He had to trust everybody to take care of themselves, and he believed that they could."

However, Rafe's since traded his halo for a second chance at life, and battling the forces of evil is what he does best. "He's back to feeling all the pressure," notes Gaskill, adding, "It's like, 'I've gotta do this all myself, get out of the way — I've gotta protect you!'"

With his alarm bells going off, Rafe's ready to rumble. Will his instincts about Stephen prove correct? Having lost his last battle with the vampire, Rafe knows he's got everything on the line!

Rafe is ready and raring to confront suspicious Stephen.
